A Had Regro. Jack Wadsworth, arrested Saturday, through the efforts of Officer Brewer, for stealing five pigs from Mrs. Goddett, seems to be a tough case, and if the charges against him are half true, he ought to be severely handled. A few nights ago, it is alleged, the prisoner visited Wadsworth's pig pen, on West North street, and out the throat of a small sheep he found in the pen. He then threw the pig over his shoulder and carried it off, the blood streaming down in the alley west to Edward street, where the trail was lost. He took the pig to his father-in-law's house, where it was cleaned, cut up and placed in a jar. It was found in the jar and identified Sunday by Mr. Baker in the presence of Officers Hartley and Brewer. Another party in the city recently had two pigs killed in a pen in the same manner, and it is believed that Wadsworth is the guilty party.

Trial by Jury. In Justice McGorrey's court the case of Ed. Martin vs. Henry Ferrell is on trial by jury to-day. The parties traded teams some time ago, and one of the horses traded to Martin died rather suddenly. Martin now wants Ferrell to fork over $150, and brings suit for that sum. W. C. Johns appears for Ferrell, and Judge Nelson for Martin. The court room is crowded.

Sensation. Rev. A. J. McGlamphy, formerly of the Mt. Zion Seminary, president of the Lincoln University, and other members of the faculty, resigned on Saturday, which action created something of a sensation. The college is under the auspices of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, and was established by the Synod of Indiana, Illinois, Iowa and Missouri, and the patronage is largely from the Southern states. Of late years the school has run down, and the resignations were handed in because the patrons of the institution were continually crying for a change. The people of Lincoln are considerably worked up about the matter.

Taxes Collected. Long Creek—Willis M. Davis, collector. Amount assessed, $9,734.37; collected, $6,734.37; delinquent, $3,000.00. Oakley—J. B. Lichtenberger, collector. The Jaylins and Kennedy Bright Lights comedy company will commence a five nights' engagement to-morrow evening at the opera house, matinee performance every afternoon commencing Wednesday. Admission 10 and 20 cents.

The City Election.

The city election will be held in Decatur on the 21st of April. It is to be hoped that all the voters will go to the polls on that day and vote; also to remember that there will be a grand free lunch on next Thursday evening, from 8 p. m. to 11 p. m., at A. W. Clarkson's Star Saloon and pool room, south side city park. 23-d

MANAGER Haines has been making an effort to secure the Theodore Thomas Grand Concert company, with orchestra of 50 to 60 people, to appear in Decatur in May. He is in receipt of a letter from the company asking a guarantee of $1200. The Manager will think about it.

A Strong Endorsement.

We are in receipt of a personal letter from Hon. B. B. Ray, member of the Illinois 33d General Assembly from Vermilion county, giving the following strong endorsement of Mr. James Thomas, who is a candidate for the office of Justice of the Peace in Decatur township at the approaching spring election:

EDITHA REYNOLDS.—Seeing the announcement of James Thomas, Esq., of your city, for the position of one of the Justices of the township I wish to add a word of commendation. The gentleman is a former townsman and an old friend. Were I a citizen of your city I would give him my unqualified influence and support. He is a fair minded man, with quick perception, on the side of good morals and order—the essentials of a law-abiding people—and if elected, would act with dignity and wisdom. In a country like this the man should be sought who meets the above requirements irrespective of former party affiliations. B. B. Ray.

JAMES McLENN, the dejected tailor, who tried to kill himself Saturday forenoon, is doing as well as can be expected. Naturally he has a very severe pain in his left side where the bullet struck a rib. McLeNN is a member of the Knights of Pythias order at Bloomington, where his sister, Mrs. McLeNN resides. He was at one time in the employ of Ex-Judge David Davis.

The Frank Girard party, which gave the comedy, "It's a Cold Day When We Get Left," at the Opera House, Saturday night, came pretty near getting left after all. In the middle of the first act the gas went out, leaving the hall in total darkness; but after a little delay lamps and candles were procured, and the company went on with the play. It was funny to see about two dozen sperm candles used for footlights, candles and lamps on the stage, and the actors trying their best to make the audience laugh in the semi darkness. The piece is a good one, and was well received. Manager Haines had not been notified of the trouble at the gas works, and therefore had no time to put in electric lamps.

To the Patrons of the Gas Co. On behalf of the company the subscribers desire to express the deepest regret for the inconvenience and vexation you have been recently subject to, and in which we have all shared to a full extent, through the casualties that have occurred at the works, which so far as human foresight could go have been unavoidable under the circumstances. It would require a great deal of space to explain in detail these several occurrences than would be proper here, but by way of general explanation will state that radical changes have been undertaken at the works for the manufacture of gas, the object being to furnish to our consumers the best light possible that can be produced from gas at the least price possible. Every one who is acquainted with the making of radical changes in machinery of any kind in the midst of operations of manufacture that must produce absolutely a certain quality and quality of product daily, is in itself a critical undertaking, being liable to contingencies that cannot be foreseen; and when you consider the fact that in this case the changes have been effected during frigid weather that has proved to be the most severe and prolonged experienced since Decatur became a city, and with such sensitive objects of temperature as iron, water, steam, and gas itself, the difficulties of the situation will be better appreciated; hence it is not surprising that we have had the mortification of seeing our gas supply fail, once at 10 o'clock and twice at 9 p. m.—besides lacking in uniformity of candle power, very fine sometimes, and quite poor at others, notwithstanding the utmost exertions on the part of Mr. Hartley of the Water Gas Co. and Mr. Butman and his assistants. We hope in the future to be able to furnish light continuously, either from coal or water gas, the new apparatus will necessarily be engaged in experimental work for some weeks, so as to thoroughly demonstrate the success of using (active) bituminous coal in the manufacture of water gas. J. K. WARREN, President.

PERSONAL MENTION.

E. L. Pegram, of Lincoln, was in the city over Sunday.

It is thought that George A. Henderson is afflicted with intermittent fever.

Bob Burdette, who is to lecture at the opera house to-night, will arrive in the city this afternoon from Charleston.

Best Morriewether has received a lot of Plymouth Rock that will be sold to the best ever brought to Decatur.

Borney Clark will leave to-morrow for Melville, Dakota. His household effects have been forwarded.

Dr. Channery Sherick, of Little York, arrived Saturday night to attend the funeral of his father.

Chas. H. Winop, of the National Mutual Accident Ins. Co., Bloomington, was in the city over Sunday.

W. H. Linn arrived home this morning from New York, where he purchased an immense stock of New goods for Linn & Scruggs. The purchases are arriving every day.

Ed. C. Basse, the chief ventilator, has our thanks for a neat little book giving the officers, members of the senate, rules of the senate, and the names of the standing committees. It comes right handy for reference.

Arthur S. Robinson, book-keeper for the Republican, left Saturday night for Jacksonville, Florida, going by way of New Orleans to take part in the Exposition. He will be absent several weeks, and will return with his family.

The following letter has been received by the Decatur Musical College in regard to Miss Lillian B. Irwin's ability as an elocutionist:

CHICAGO, Ill., March 16, '85. Miss Lillian Irwin has passed a critical examination in the Art of Elocution by Voice and Action and received her diploma. I entirely endorse her ability as a speaker, and of assuming the duties of teacher in your college. WALTER C. LEWIS.

Miss Irwin will arrive from Chicago April 1st, and will open her classes on Thursday, April 2nd. High School pupils please call as early as possible. Parents desiring their children to learn to read and speak clearly will do well to apply early for lessons. Both private and class lessons given. Term continued through the summer.

"The Century." On account of the large first edition, 225,000, the issue of the April "Century" will be delayed until March 24th. The War feature of this number is a fully illustrated article on the Capture of New Orleans, by Admiral Porter, with an interesting account of the city before and at the time of the capture, by George W. Cable. A new edition, the 230th thousand, of the February Century, is now ready, containing Gen. Grant's article on "Shiloh."

To be obtained at the Post Office Book Store.

For Treasurer. Wm. J. Myers is the first to announce for the office of City Treasurer. Mr. Myers is an old citizen of Decatur, where he has lived for very many years an upright and honorable man. He has served several years in the county, and has been a faithful and efficient public servant.

Burdette to-night.

"Little Mack" Jones. We have received a copy of the Daily Southwestern, of March 20th, published at North Springfield, Mo., containing the following:

When U. S. District Attorney Warner was elected to Congress from the Fifth district he resigned his attorneyship in favor of Ross Gullis, a Kansas City political striker, whose knowledge of law was in inverse proportion to his "gall" and so well was this known that the President refused to appoint him and the position remained vacant until Commissioner McLean Jones was appointed to fill the place. U. S. District Attorney Jones desires to appoint a man who would fill the attorneyship acceptably to the people of Springfield and the southwest he would not go amiss in continuing Mr. McLean Jones permanently in his present position.

United States District Attorney Jones is a Decatur young man, and a nephew of Mr. E. A. Jones.

Hear Burdette to-night.

Saturday night when the gas went out A. W. Clarkson ordered an electric light lamp put up at his saloon, and within 40 minutes Chris. and Chas. Woodman, of the Electric Light company, had the saloon flooded with light. That was double-quick work.

CALHOUN county, in this state, is located in the angle formed by the junction of the Illinois river with the Mississippi. It is stated as a fact that not a single mile of railroad, not a bank, and no telegraph office is found within its boundaries, though it has a population of about 8,000. Its county superintendent of schools was the only one in the state who did not make an annual report to the state superintendent last year, his alleged reason being that the blanks were too complicated to be understood. The county is Democratic—nearly two to one.

Smokes "Harper's Bazar." I. F. Pace & Co. Jan 24-dit

Much inconvenience to merchants, the opera house manager, the hotel proprietors, saloons, and other places, was occasioned Saturday evening at a few minutes before 9 o'clock by another accident at the gas works, which suddenly shut off the gas in all parts of the city. The mishap was caused by the warping of a valve at the works. The opening caused the gas to escape at a great rate, and to prevent a conflagration business had to be suspended. The valve is a part of the new water gas apparatus. The mishap was unforeseen and might have occurred in any other gas works. On Sunday the old coal gas works were started up again, and these will be kept going until the new apparatus is in perfect shape. There was gas last night and the supply will be plentiful in future. There were some amusing features in connection with the gas famine Saturday night. At the hotel there was a great demand for lamps of all sizes and shapes, tallow and sperm candles, and at the opera house candles were specially procured to be used as footlights. At the hotels wine bottles were used for candlesticks.

The Oil House Fire. The fire department was called out at 4 o'clock this morning to fight fire. The small frame oil house, belonging to the Wabash, located east of the O. B. & Q. check-rover office, was in flames, and there was imminent danger of a terrific explosion, as there were 16 barrels of oil in the building. The firemen arrived in time to prevent such a catastrophe, and the oil was saved. The building is a wreck. It caught fire from a flying spark.

More About the Fair. The issue of the fair for the spring for the fair should be for and against a fair. That will give an expression of the people and show to the board of supervisors whether they are authorized to fit up the fair ground and have a good fair or not. Probably no one will deny that a county fair is for the benefit of the country; then why not let the county bear the expense, and have a genuine good fair where men, women and children can meet at least once a year and exhibit the best selections from their year's labor in kind and show to their neighbors for a premium guaranteed to be paid a hundred cents to the dollar. Let us then at our caucus in each township nominate an enterprising, progressive man for supervisor—no matter what his politics may have been heretofore—but is now in favor of a good fair, and one if such can be found—who is opposed. This will give every man in the county a voice in the matter and decide at once all bickering about the fair and fair ground. It is true some branches of business in Decatur are benefited more directly by the fair than others, but then these men nearly all donate very liberally to the fair, so it is about even all around. The Joryville fair is considered the best county fair in the state. They offer nearly as large premiums as the state does, and pay them, too, in full, when only a few years ago they would only pay about fifty cents on the dollar of their premiums, and it was even thought best by some to give it up entirely, and have no fair, but just then the supervisors came to the front and made an appropriation to the fair ground and said to the people that the premiums would be paid in full; at the next fair the gate fees more than paid off the premium list, since then it has kept on increasing in popularity till now the surplus has nearly paid the original expense. Another similar instance is the Wabash fair in Marshall county, with this exception, when they had run down so low that they could not pay their premiums, or hardly any part of them, they formed a stock concern of it, made a new deal all around, elected new officers and judges, paid their premiums off in full, and now the stockholders who have a good investment, as it pays them a dividend of from 20 to 30 percent on original cost. Now I have no doubt that our fair could be made as successful as any in the state. I think one great mistake has been made in selecting judges for the different departments, as they should not only be competent, but should be so arranged as to represent all parts of the county, especially the remote parts, as that would have a tendency to get those out who are not generally at the fair, and they should be the same time the superintendent, and their names printed in the premium list, then everybody would know where the judges were in each department. The incompetency of the judges has given much dissatisfaction, which to illustrate I will mention two instances, to wit: A premium was offered for "best piece of corn bread," now as only one piece was offered at the fair, but several loaves of the best cake got the premium, I infer the judges were incompetent to judge in that class, as they evidently did not know what a piece of corn bread was or they would have been nearly bound to give the premium to it. The other is this: One of the judges of cattle while looking at the herd of Herefords called a bystander "Are the cattle Jerseys or Guernseys?" Now a man who has a cow taken enough interest in cattle to have learned the difference between the large, noble Hereford and the beautiful little Jersey or Guernsey is incompetent to judge in that class. Let us then have a vote on the question of fair or no fair, and I believe it will be a strong majority in favor of a fair, but should it be voted down then throw down the fence and turn it into a common pasture, where all fair-minded men will visit our neighbors' counties where the inhabitants have a surprise enough to keep up a fair.

Firemen's Ball. Citizens of Decatur, this is to notify you that the second grand annual ball of John M. Raymond Lodge No. 43 B. of L. E. will be held at the tabernacle Thursday evening, April 9, 1885. All those who have purchased tickets will please present them at that date, as they are good as gold. This is the last ball that was to have taken place Feb. 13, but was postponed by reason of the snow blockade and the death of two of our brethren.
